Mr. Motley in England—Speculations of the Press as to His Instructions—The British Colonial Policy—Farewell Banquet to General Dix by Americans in Paris—Proceedings in English Parliament—New Constitution Adopted by the Spanish Cortez—Death of General O'Donnell.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 2.—Mr. Motley, it is understood, to-day addressed a letter to Lord Clarendon, informing him of his arrival in London and officially requesting the appointment of a day for the presentation of his credentials. As the Prince of Wales holds a levee to-day, to-morrow has been named as the more fitting time for the Ministerial introduction.

Mr. Moran, the United States Charge d'Affairs, attended the levee and was presented.

The burden of the newspaper articles published here to-day on the subject of Mr. Motley's arrival, is generally to the effect that the writers find in his speech in Liverpool an indication of the spirit of the instructions given to him by President Grant.

The Pall Mall Gazette boasts that America has backed down before British pluck, and that under these circumstances the arrival of the new Minister is of great importance, and the best result they anticipate from Mr. Motley's mission is that his duties will afford him sufficient leisure to prosecute his historical studies.

LONDON, June 1.—The Star publishes a highly complimentary article, in which it says the character of Mr. Motley is in itself a sufficient indication that the United States will treat the pending subject honorably, while the presence of Mr. Bright in the English Cabinet, with Mr. Gladstone at the head of the Ministry, constitute an equally sufficient guarantee that England loves peace and that a determination to do justice animates the Ministry.

The Telegraph thinks that Mr. Motley will, for the present, devote himself to the discharge of the ordinary duties of his office, and that in that capacity he may consolidate that cordial alliance which ought to exist between the two countries. It will be a reproach to English politicians and journals if for the sake of pandering to popular prejudice they throw difficulties in the way of the mission of good will and peace which Mr. Motley declares he comes to carry out, even to the end.

The Times understands no new demand has been addressed to England. Mr. Motley enters upon his duties without any prospect of controversy, but at the same time says the English government should examine any new proposals and see if they promise a just and equitable solution. If the neutrality proclamation is made the subject of grievance, we are bound to listen to the arguments addressed, though it is impossible any good purpose would be served by raising such discussion.

Notwithstanding the tone of the London press, says the New York Herald special, I have good authority for saying that not one of the newspapers have received the slightest hint or indication of Mr. Motley's instructions, which I am assured will in the end be found thoroughly dignified and in firm American tone.

The proceedings in the House of Commons, last evening, in regard to Canada and other British Colonies in North America, were very interesting. Sir Harry Verney, member for Buckingham, inquired what the policy of the Government would be toward the American Colonies.

Mr. Monsell, Under Secretary for the Colonial Department, replied at length. While he declined to enter on the general subject of the Colonial Policy of the Government, he intimated that part of that policy was to throw the cost of self-defence on each Colony. Measures to that end had been partially taken and would be extended next year. He had no doubt the arrangement for the cession of the Hudson Bay Company Territory would receive the ratification of the Canadian Government. The question was not one of purchase only, but also of development, colonization and civilization, which had hitherto been virtually closed. If the scheme were successful, the Dominion would be able to extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He believed all the interests of British Columbia lay in connection with those of Canada, and every facility would be given to forward them.

Stafford Northcote, member for North Devon, thought the Canadians were better able to decide for themselves what action they would take in the matter, than to act on the advice of the Government. Still he believed the question would soon be satisfactorily settled.

Viscount Berry regarded Canada as the future highway to the Indies and the East. Much had been said and written about the incorporation of British Possessions with the United States. He ridiculed this idea, and said by such a course the Colonies had everything to lose and nothing to gain.

Mr. Adderly, member from North Staffordshire, and formerly Under Secretary for the Colonial Department, regarded the arrangements as detailed and explained by Government as eminently satisfactory. On principle he generally disapproved of the system of government guarantees, yet he would vote in favor of this.

LONDON, June 2.—In the House of Commons last night Mr. Seeley, member for Lincoln, made some remarks on Ocean Postage. He urged that in the future contracts for carrying mails to the United States be made no longer than for three years; that the service be regulated by the amount of mails carried. He advocated Ocean penny postage and hoped negotiations would be entered into with the United States for the establishment of that system. The remarks of Mr. Hartington, Postmaster General, defended the late mail contracts made by the government. Although he sympathized with the sentiments of Mr. Seely, he was opposed to his proposal, which, if carried into effect, would lead to uncertainty in the service and to disinclination on the part of the steamship companies to compete with each other. He thought the present contracts would be the last which would be made with a fixed subsidy, but was altogether doubtful of the success of any negotiations for the establishment of penny postage across the Atlantic. At the conclusion of the Postmaster General's reply, the subject was dropped.

Mr. Moore moved that a special committee be appointed to inquire into the treatment of untried Irish political prisoners. Mr. Fortescue, Secretary for Ireland, believed complaints made of ill treatment of these prisoners were exaggerated, but thought the political prisoners awaiting their trial should be held under the supervision of Government officers and not kept in county jails. After remarks from Messrs. Gray and Maguire, condemning the present system of holding untried prisoners in confinement, the house divided on the motion and refused to appoint a Committee by a vote of twenty against eighty-four.

The Times, reviewing the correspondence between the English and American governments in the Alabama claims, &c., says: "Although we were well well aware of the frankness and desire for a good understanding which characterized two successive British governments, we know not the lengths to which conciliation was carried or how completely it was their own propositions, their own acts, which the Americans repudiated through their Senate. When we compare the exacting and critical spirit of America with the conceding temper of England, and come to consider that all that was yielded was insufficient to prevent any treaty, we despaired of the success of any negotiation in which England had a due regard for her own rights and honor."

FRANCE.

A special from Paris says: A splendid farewell American banquet was given to General Dix at the Grand Hotel to-night. Between three and four hundred persons were present. Mr. Washburne, the General's successor, Mr. Burlingame and Mr. Bullock, of Massachusetts, were guests. Mr. Cowdin, of New York, presided. General Dix, in response to the toast of his health, delivered an eloquent speech, thanking the assembly for the compliment paid him. He reviewed the past progress and referred to the future prospects of their common country. Alluding to the completion of the Union Pacific Railroad, he said it realized the Prophet's dream, and the great thought of Columbus, by opening a western passage from Europe to the Indies. In the present century little more is needed to complete the work. After alluding to the ambition of the American people, the General said: We may trust in Providence for the continuance of our national prosperity, if in our intercourse with foreign States we conform to those rules of international rights and obligations which have received the sanction of the civilized world, demanding only that the same maxims of reciprocal justice shall be sacredly respected by others, that the high seas shall be recognized as a common pathway, and that nations shall be free from all pretences of superiority or arbitrary control. In relation to France, he said there existed between America and France from the earliest period a strong bond of affiance, which should never be broken. France came to our aid at a trying period in the infancy of our country, and during the very throes of national gestation she rendered essential aid to Washington by the swords of her soldiers, Rochambeau and Count De Grazie, while D'Estainge Truxton and Paul Jones at sea unsheathed their swords in the cause of Independence. Owing to this, misunderstandings between the two countries for nearly a century have been few, unimportant and brief in duration, leaving no rankling feeling or resentments behind. After an eloquent tribute to the generosity of Napoleon, and worth and virtue of the Empress, Gen. Dix referred to the qualifications of his successor, Mr. Washburne.

Speeches were subsequently made by Messrs Burlingame, Washburne, Bullock and others.

The steamship Manhattan from Liverpool, has arrived.

SPAIN.

MADRID, Jue 1.—The Cortes last night adopted the new Constitution by two hundred and fourteen affirmatives and fifty-five negatives.

After the vote was declared, Senator Fegueras, amid much enthusiasm, announced the Republicans, though opposed to those clauses of the Constitution which provide for the establishment of a Monarchy, would support and follow them.

The motion made by the Republicans that the standing army in Spain be reduced from 85,000 to 25,000, was lost by 173 against, 76 for.

Admiral Tapete informed the Cortes that six hundred political prisoners from Cuba were now at Fernando Po, but they would soon be transported to the Canaries.

It is officially announced that the Queen's birth-day, 10th of October, is to be celebrated at Madrid.

Gen. O'Donnell, while speaking in the Cortez against the proposed reduction of the army, was seized with apoplexy, and died in the Chamber.

The Cortes is engaged in signing the Constitution, which will be promulgated on the 6th inst.

Amount of public debt, less cash and sinking fund in Treasury, $2,505,412,613.12. Amount of public debt, less cash and sinking fund in Treasury on the 1st May, $2,518,795,391.09.

Decrease of public debt during the past month, $13,382,777.97. Decrease since March 1st, 1869, $20,050,646.

The warrants issued by the Treasury Department during the month of May to meet the requirements of the Government came to, in round numbers, the following sums: Civil, miscellaneous and foreign intercourse, $3,534,600; interest on public debt, $19,831,000; War Department, $4,180,000; Navy Department, $1,163,000; Interior Department, Territory and Indians, $1,638,000; total, $30,366,600. The warrants issued for the redemption of the public debt are not included in the above.

MINISTER M'MAHON.

A statement has recently appeared that information at the State Department shows almost conclusively that the Brazilian and Argentine authorities, who control the La Plata below Asuncion, intercepted Minister M'Mahon's dispatches; that M'Mahon was at Asuncion on the 1st of April, and after that he ascended the river and joined Lopez. There is good authority for stating the only information upon this subject possessed by the Department of State is that intelligence reached Rio Janerio on the 7th of April, of the arrival at Asuncion of the United States Minister resident to Paraguay. One account received there reads as follows: "The American Minister has escaped from Lopez and is now under the protection of the Brazilian authorities in Asuncion."

CONVICT LABOR QUESTION.

It is claimed that the State of Pennsylvania has the right to authorize the manufacture of cigars by convict laborers, and this subject has been officially presented to the Internal Revenue Bureau. No decision has yet been rendered, but as far as can be ascertained the ruling will be against the claim, for the reason that if cigars could be thus manufactured without paying tax, the distillation of whisky might be conducted on the same plan, and the Government by this means would be deprived of a very large amount of revenue.

APPOINTMENTS.

The President has appointed Robt. L. Brown Collector of Internal Revenue for Twenty-third District, Pennsylvania.; also the following Postmasters: Edson W. Lyman, Fairburg, Illinois; Ed. J. Southworth, Hudson, Mich.; George H. Dunn, Greensburg, Ind.

GOLD SALES.

In the month of May the Secretary of the Treasury sold $5,000,000 of gold, receiving therefor $7,000,000 in currency. He also bought during that time $30,700,000 worth of bonds at a premium of about $700,000 in currency.

REGISTRATION.

The number of registered voters in Washington is 18,032, a decrease of 5,200 from last year.

REVENUE RECEIPTS.

The receipts from customs in May were $15,000,000, and from internal revenue $20,000,000.

News from Cuba.

HAVANA, June 2.—The agitation in the city has partially abated. Capt.-General Dulce resigned this morning and Don Espenar is acting Capt. General, and will continue to do so until the arrival of General Caballero De Roda. The city is tranquil, but disorder threatens to break out at any moment, as the volunteers are greatly incensed against General Pelez, who has disappeared, and whose whereabouts is not known.

New Hampshire Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CONDORD, N. H., June 2.—The organization of the Legislature was promptly effected by the choice of Hon. John Y. Mugridge, of Concord, as President of the Senate, and Samuel L. Wheeler, of Dover, Speaker. Gov. Stearns will be inaugurated on Thursday.

—New York city has received its first profit from the sale of railroad franchise, in the shape of $150,000 from Geo. Law for the new Twenty-third street road.

Operations Against the Indians.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 2.—The following intelligence has been received at Gen. Sheridan's headquarters: By order of General Schofield, Commanding the Department of Missouri, the commanding officer at Leavenworth Arsenal will transfer to the Governor of Kansas twelve thousand rounds of Spencer carbine ammunition, six thousand rounds to be sent to Saline and six thousand to Junction City, for the protection of frontier settlements. The troop of the Seventh United States Cavalry, now at camp Beecher, will at once move northward to the head of Marion Center, and thence towards the big bend of Smoky Hill, scouring thoroughly the country in front of the settlements and between the Arkansas and Smoky Hill. If no Indians are discovered or reported in that section, the company will then march to Fort Parker, the commanding officer reporting his arrival by telegraph to the headquarters of the Department.

By order of Gen. Auger, Commanding the Department of the Platte, as soon as the companies at his post are consolidated, Brevet Brig. Gen. C.C. Gilbert, Commanding Fort Bridger, will send them to the Wind River Reservation for duty there during the summer. Gen. Gilbert will accompany the command, and in connection with the Indian Agent, will select a proper point for an agency, where the troops will be stationed.

News from Mexico.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, June 1.—Intelligence from Mexico, dated May 25th, says the statement made by the American Press that Mexico is desirous of raising money by selling the State of Sonora is indignantly denied. Minister Rosecrans denies sending any dispatches indicating any such desire, and the government denies having requested his recall.

Romero's proposition for the issue of eighteen million in paper money has been defeated in Congress.

The Mexican Congress was discussing the payment of the foreign debt. Senor Covarrabias advocated a declaration that all treaties with England, France and Spain had been annulled by intervention and new treaties will be necessary before the Mexican Government can consider the payment of the debt.

There was great excitement at the Capitol, caused by the attempt of Congress to impeach the Supreme Court Judges. The latter claim that Congress has no power to judge of their acts.

At last accounts Negrete was near Queretaro, the Legislature of which has assembled under the protection of national troops.

Spanish Troubles for Want of a "Man."

The London Times has the following from Madrid:

The "man" has been wanting in Spain since the "hour" struck in September. It is the utter helplessness of the rulers, both in council and in action, which has prolonged up to this moment, and may, for aught we can foresee, perpetuate the present disastrous provisional state of things. The Spaniards are losing an unconscious deal of time in the discussion of the best form of government, simply because they are aware of their inability to form a government of any kind. Every one seems to hope to gain something for himself by all this idle tinkering at a constitution which, as they are all aware, will have to be gone over again if it is ever to be put into working order. Every one is conscious of the impossibility of getting out of the present dilemma by any other means than a violent stroke of policy, and wonders whether it be Prim's sword or that of the Unionist general's that will ultimately preponderate in the political scales. Till that main question is decided, till it is clear whether it is Montpensier and a military anarchy, or Prim and a military republic that is to be forced upon Spain, it is idle to talk about organized government, or restored finances, or modified cabinets. There will always be the same anarchy in the administration, the same disorder in all branches of economy; the same helplessness and hoplessness in public life. Little more than seven months of this uncertainty will have accumulated difficulties which it will take at least as many years of energetic rule to remove. The Minister of the Finances presented an estimate of the revenue, which he set down at something like £21,000,000. The expenditure, it is whispered, will exceed £30,000,000, and the funds are just a little above £25,000,000, and the prospects of the harvest are still very gloomy in the North, and altogether desperate in the South. Out of Madrid, throughout these provinces, there arises a general outcry that both salaries and pensions have been unpaid for months. The country clergy especially are kept out of their incomes, and sheer want is not likely to assuage the hostility which most of them harbor against the present order of things. Reaction is everywhere described as rampant. The frontier is said to be swarming with Carlists and Isabellists; suspicious-looking bands are everywhere scouring the country; alarming intelligence comes in from Catalonia and Andalusia, where the proclamation of a federal republic is said to be imminent. All these evils are said to have been condensing in Spain merely from want of a man. And the man is, however, sure to make his appearance at the right moment, unless it enters into the design of Providence that Spain shall perish utterly. But it is, perhaps, necessary that things should get worse, much worse, and still worse, before they at all begin to mend.

FROM an Atlanta (Georgia) dispatch of the 29th we learn that Miss Penelope Adkins, daughter of the late Senator Adkins, publishes an appeal for justice, in which, speaking of the reports in relation to her father, she says:

"I hurl back the infamous charges alleged against my deceased father. The charges consist altogether of vague rumors, and if those who make them have proof of dissolute conduct against him sufficient to justify murder for personal causes, let it be produced. They are well aware that no private injury to his assassin caused his murder. They know and feel it in their herrts that he was killed on account of his politics alone, solely because he was a Republican. The murderers are well known and can be named, yet no step has been taken to bring them to justice. I have no recourse but to appeal to the people of Georgia and of the nation for retribution upon them and their secret clan of assassins. Such an appeal I hereby solemnly make."

A MAN living in Taney county, Mo., recently sent his boy to mill, a distance of ten or twelve miles, and the boy not returning as soon as usual a neighbor sent his boy to see what had become of the lad, and the second boy not returning in due season, a party consisting of the parents of the boys and three or four other men, all armed, started to search for the youths. After travelling some four miles a sight sufficient to chill the blood of the bravest was presented to their view. Right by the side of the road was a large panther deliberately tearing the flesh from the remains of one of the boys—the last sent out. The horror-stricken parent raised his gun to his shoulder, and taking good aim, fired and killed the ferocious beast. After searching a mile or so more, the mutilated remains of the other boy were also found.

THE AWAITING,

A FRAGMENT FROM SCHILLER.

Do I not hear the gate turning?
Was it the latch that then fell?
No! the zephyr murmurs yearning
Through this quiet poplar dell.

Silence! the hedge-row was parted,
Rustling while one through it crept,
No! a frightened bird then darted
From the copse, and onward swept.

A voice with the still air is blending,
Softly in whispers fond?
No! the circling swan is sending
Ripples o'er the silver pond.

Hear I not feet lightly moving
Over the gravel-strewn path?
No! the ripening fruit is proving
Ripeness from the weight it hath.

Do I not see a white shimmering
Shining with silk's sheeny fall?
No! the pillar there is glimmering
'Gainst the shadowed jewen wall.

And soft, while from heavenly clearness
The moments all happy descend,
Nigh she came, unseen in her nearness,
And wakened with kisses her friend.

Fell's Railway Over the Alps.

PARIS, April 24.

The railway over Mount Cenis, which is a temporary method of transit only until the tunnel is completed, is called the American railway, its inventor, Mr. Fell, who built the one up Mount Washington, being styled an American; and we were promised a ride in real American cars. The time of starting was 7 A. M. There was a great crowd of all sorts at the station, a lively fight for tickets at the box office (for the perfect French system has not yet reached the other side of the Alps) and then we waited till 7½ o'clock before we were let out to the cars.

The train ready to go consisted of an engine and two first-class passenger cars. The carriages were about half the length of ours at home, with seats on each side, so that the passengers face each other as in an omnibus, and with windows at the sides from which it is difficult to see out when one is squeezed in tight on the seat with his back to them. The cars are also very narrow, the track being only three feet six or seven inches guage, so that they are not much more comfortable than an omnibus. The fare, first-class, twenty-five, second class, twenty-two francs, from Susa to St. Michel, the time occupied in the passage being from four to five hours.

The locomotives of these trains are small, compact and powerful; their trucks, as well as those of the carriages, set well in the middle, so that they can turn very short curves. The track has three rails, one elevated in the centre. Besides its ordinary driving wheels, the locomotive has two horizontal wheels which press this third rail on either side, and it is by this strong traction that the train is pulled up. The carriages have corresponding wheels for the centre rail, but their only use is to keep the train on the track. Both the cars and locomotives have double sets of brakes, one for the ordinary and one for the centre rail, so that they can screw the cars to the track with the grip of a vice, and render it almost impossible for the carriages to run away. There is every precaution against accident; and I should only fear the snow storms of winter, and perhaps an avalanche in some places high up, which are not roofed in.

We began to climb the hill directly after we left the station, exactly as a carriage drawn by horses would do. In fact, our track ran parallel to the carriage road all the way, was just as steep and made the short turns of the latter. Our train seemed to be a huge live reptile, with legs and claws, and crawled up by its own power; it literally dug right up hill, and we felt ourselves mounting, and looking back, could see the steep incline. Of the curves, where the wheels got a good grip of the rail, we moved with ease and more rapidly than on a straight pull, where the locomotive evidently labored more, and we rose more slowly.

The steepest grade on the road is one foot in nine feet, but this is only for short distances. The rise of one in twelve is more common; and the least (of which any note is taken) is one in twenty-five. The curves are so short as to be startling. We seemed to turn in a space as small as an ordinary wagon could. The shortest curves are on a radius of only 120 feet; that is, our train would run round a circle only 240 feet in diameter. Our track was all the time in sight, behind and before; running along the steep hillsides, and constant doubling, like a compressed letter S.

You march up with triumphant ease, rising among the grand snow peaks like a conqueror. The valleys open behind you, with their rivers and brown villages, the great panorama expanding with every revolution of the wheels. You skirt precipices and look down upon nestling villages and green fields; you push your way up among the snowy regions, the stone huts of the begging, half naked, dirty peasants, and the refuge houses of the road; are whisked round rocky headlands, through tunnels and covered ways, over deep gullies and tracks of avalanches, rising always higher and higher, as by no expenditure of strength, into a purer air, among peaks of virgin snow, among the silent sumits of the enduring Alps.

The day was superb, with blue sky and fine air, and it was so warm, even in the snow region, that I needed no overcoat. Our view was for the most part uninterrupted and magnificent. The summit level is about 6,400 feet above the sea, and before we reached it we passed into a covered way, built of wood at the sides and arched with iron, and were immurred in this, in the ascent, descent and on the level for four or five miles, I should think; dark, unpleasant passages, made worse by the smoke and fumes of the locomotive. These covered ways are absolutely necessary as a protection against avalanches in many places and against falls of snow for long distances. Through the chinks of the boards I could see snow piled up high along the way. The summit station is in one of these long sheds, and is gloomy enough.

We made the descent more rapidly than the ascent, swinging around the short bends with considerable velocity. The brakes were jammed hard down until I could smell the odor caused by the friction. On the descent I saw the frowning forts of Brumont d'Essilion, on peaks high above the abyss through which the Arc foams and roars, connected with the road by a thread of a suspension bridge over the gorge, called the Pont du Diable. The forts are being demolished now, under the agreement between France and Italy. Lower down, and about ten miles up the mountain from St. Michel, we caught sight of the rubbish of the opening of the great tunnel, which enters the mountain at Fourneau. It is to be eight and a half miles long, and it is expected to be completed in 1871. It is no doubt a great and interesting bore, but if I desired a pleasure trip, I think I should prefer the raid of Mr. Fell over the mountain to this hole through it.

I talked with a locomotive driver on our train, by the way (an Englishman, as they all are on this road), who insisted that Mr. Fell is not an American. He knew him well, lived near him in the north of England, and said he was not an engineer at all, except so far as this invention was concerned, but was a dissenting clergyman. He is certainly a dissenter from the ordinary line of railways. The engineer was an excellent specimen of an intelligent, illiterate English mechanic, with a drawl and nasal twang in his speech that a Cape Cod man might envy; and he gave me a great deal of valuable information about the road, which I might here impart, if your readers cared for valuable information, which I suppose they do not. He was takin' a day h'off for pleasure, he said, and goin' down to see the work on the big bore.

'Twas a nasty bit of work this of running twice over the road daily, as he did, and only getting twelve pounds a month, for the job, especially in the winter, with the snow and beastly wind. There have been only six days the past winter when they couldn't run on account of snow, and then the passengers had been carried over the break on sledges. He explained to me the construction of the locomotive, the application of its power, the working of the breaks, and the whole thing, so that I think I can build a road out to West Hartford, over Prospect Hill and to the Tower if anybody desires, when I return. Sealed proposals, enclosing stamp and photograph, can be left at the Probate steps. I said to the engineer that I supposed it impossible for the locomotive, with three rails to get off the track.

Well, he said his machine got off once last winter. The fact was, that the thing had got the upper hand of him, and run away with him. He spoke of it as if it were a horse. He was running with the locomotive alone, takin' her down the mountain, not mindin' exactly, when he found he had got on so much steam that he couldn't hold her. He was goin' down the one in nine, round them ere nasty curves, when she started. He shut off, and jammed down all the brakes, reserve and all, but she only appeared to go the faster. Away she went, like the —— (so he said), whisking round, and at last bounded off and went slam ag'in a rock. "If she'd a gone over the ravine on t'other side, I wouldn't be here to tell ye of it."

A Novel Railway Incident.

The Titusville Herald says: In our yesterday's issue we mentioned that a part of the track of the Oil Creek Railroad near Gray's Mills had given way, and allowed one car to sink into a bed of quick sand. We have since learned that the break occurred where the track was laid across a peat bog, and that it took place while a gravel train which had been run on that part of the track was being unloaded. Three of the cars began to sink rapidly, in a few minutes after the work of unloading commenced, and in a short time one of them was below the surface. An attempt was made to draw the other two on the track, but it failed, and during Sunday afternoon and yesterday the cars continued to sink, and at last accounts they were about twelve feet below the surface. About two hundred and twenty-five laborers were at work yesterday on the track, but the relaying of it has been found more difficult than was at first supposed.

During yesterday the passenger trains were run as close to the break as possible, and the passengers, baggage and express freight were transferred. The trains were delayed but a few minutes. It is expected that the track will be repaired by this evening. The bog is quite large, and where the track crosses it is about one hundred yards broad. It was sounded in several places yesterday, and found to be about thirty-eight feet deep.

THE effect of the coal miners' suspension on transportation is reported by a Mauch Chunk paper thus: About twelve hundred boats on the Lehigh Canal have stopped running, by which three thousand men are thrown out of employment. The Lehigh and Susquehanna Railroad has now but one coal train running. On Wednesday twenty-nine coal trains were discontinued, throwing out one hundred and seventy-four men, or six to each train. All the regular coal trains on the Lehigh Valley Railroad have been discontinued.

A CORRESPONDENT writes from Salt Lake City, under date of May 20: "I hear rumors of approaching trouble between President Young and the Mormon contractors and the Union road. The directors are East, safe out of the reach of arrest, but the road may be seized by the persons who built it. President Young's patience is nearly exhausted, and the admitted debt to him is $800,000, and the unsettled accounts are $300,000 more.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases. Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P.M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET. (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, June 2, 1869.

The oil market presents but little that is new or really important. There was a fair volume of business in the aggregate, while compared with yesterday, prices have undergone no material change. There is less oil offering from the east than for some days past, from which it is fair to infer that the "short sellers" have sold about all the oil they care about selling at present. These eastern shorts, it would appear, sold with a vengeance last week, having, if reports are true, sold for several days from 25,000 to 50,000 bbls per day, and it is said this was done for the purpose of smashing the market.

CRUDE.

There was considerable activity in Crude to-day, the sales in the aggregate footing up some 16,000 bbls, while compared with yesterday prices are without material change. Sale 2,000 bbls (40@45) last half June at 13; 1,000 spot, (40@46) at 12½; $500 paid for the privilege of calling for 2,500 bbls any time this year at 15; 5,000 buyer until October 1st at 15; "call" for 1,000 each July, August and September at 14 and $600; "put" of 1,000 each June to August at 12½ and $300; also, 1,000 each July and August at 12½ and $200. Yesterday, but not before reported, 5,000 seller, 60 days, at 12¾; and 5,000 same delivery and option, at 12¼.

REFINED.

The market for Refined was again very quiet to day, the sales, as was the case yesterday, being comparatively light, while prices were steady but unchanged. Sale 1,000 bbls spot at 29½; 1,000 first half July at 30; 500 each November and December at 31¾; and 1,000 each August to December at 31¾. August to October, quoted at 31½ for the first and 32 for the last two months.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS

PENN'A CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, WEDNESDAY, June 2, 1869.

CATTLE.

The market compared with last week, has undergone no essential change in any particular. Eastern buyers, of which there were quite a goodly number in attendance, would liked to have forced a reduction, but with a light supply on sale, this was out of the question, and yesterday and to-day up until noon, nearly all of the Cattle offered were taken at about last week's prices. As has been the case for some time past, the great proportion of the Cattle came from Chicago, prices, it is alleged, being too low here to admit of shipments from Cincinnati or St. Louis. Ohio is marketing but very few Cattle, and the same is true of Indiana; we may expect liberal arrivals of grassers from both of these States within the next two or three weeks, and it is expected that whenever grass cattle commence to arrive pretty freely, prices will go lower.

There was a pretty full attendance of eastern buyers to-day, including John Smith, John McArdle and Roddy Maynes from Philadelphia and Hendrickson, Kelly, and Briggs from New York.

The quality of the stock on sale this week was hardly as good as that on sale last week. The highest price paid thus far this week was 7,90 though it is probable that the same kind of cattle that brought 8@8,10 last week, would have commanded that figure to-day.

SHEEP.

The Sheep market was so very dull and unprofitable last week to sellers, that many of them did not venture back this week, and, as a consequence, the supply was rather light. Quotations may be fairly given at 4@5 for common to good and 5¼@6 for prime to extra.

The Artificial Limb Manufacturing CO.

CHARTERED BY THE STATE OF PENNA.

All Shareholders are Men Wearing the Limbs Made by the Company.

To those requiring a limb we would say that our own experience has induced us to establish a factory here that would make a comfortable and durable limb for a reasonable price. After trying a number of solid socket and padded socket legs, we have each found more comfort and usefulness in this "ADJUSTABLE LACEING SOCKET" than in any other made in the country. One of our number, a skilled mechanic, has charge of the shop. We have bought the right to use two of the best patents, and by our experience we hope to improve in every way that will add to the comfort, durability or appearance of the limbs we make. We have put the price of our new legs at $80. Persons from a distance are only detained in the city while the measure and a cast of the injured limb is taken.

The saving to purchasers, as compared with Eastern prices, is from $40 to $95 in the price of legs; at least $26 railroad fare, hotel bills and other traveling expenses, and then we are satisfied that our limb will give better satisfaction than any one made in New York or Philadelphia. If we can get orders, we can maintain our factory at the above price, and we therefore ask an examination before going elsewhere.

We make to order and keep on hand a supply of stockings, braces, and appliances for injured or deformed limbs, also, crutches, trusses, shoulder braces, &c. For further information or circular, containing many testimonial letters from those who have worn our artificial limbs, address ARTIFICIAL LIMB MANUFACTURING CO., No 503 PENN STREET, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth, Pittsburgh, Pa. ap13:h36 TTHT

THE suppression of an obnoxious resolution by a committeeman in one of the Conventions, reminds one of the Commercial's complaint of the mysterious disappearance of a late law of our Legislature against indecent advertisements. Similar views ot "policy" seem to have prevailed in each case!

THE Commercial says that the twelfth resolution, as adopted by the County Convention, was written by Assessor ERRETT. What a whopper! District Attorney CARNAHAN, who has been the fast friend of the Commercial since the Greensburg Excursion, said that it was written by the Editor of the GAZETTE. The two friends should make their stories hang together!

GENERAL DIX was the recipient of a farewell banquet, given at the Grand Hotel in Paris, by the Americans residing in that capital. There are but few men more worthy of that or any other honor. The course of General DIX has been a thoroughly upright and exemplary one through a long political life, and his name was one of the very, very, few which shone out brightly from the murky list of ANDREW JOHNSON'S office-holders. From first to last, at home or abroad, General DIX has always born himself honorably.

THE Sioux and Cheyennes are again on the war trail, and with their usual brutal and bloody accompaniments. The report of the horrible massacre on the Saline river has been confirmed, and the telegraph informs us that troops are moving on them from three points under the general command of CUSTAR, whose successful expeditions some months ago do not seem to have intimidated the savages. The situation seems to demand severe treatment, and no better man could, judging by precedents, be found to avenge the outraged whites, than General CUSTER.

THE REPUBLICANS of Allegheny county are unanimous in the expression of their grateful sense, of the ability and impartiality exhibited, on Tuesday, by the presiding officers of the three Conventions. Hon. T. M. MARSHALL, (Connty) Major A. M. BROWN, (Judicial) and Dr. A. H. GROSS, (Legislative) met, each of them, the most delicate and responsible duties, and discharged them to the complete satisfaction of the delegates and of the party at large. Indeed, it is but just to state that the parliamentary skill and impartial sense of right, which each of these officers displayed, contributed very largely to the effective harmony of deliberations in the Conventions, and to the cordial acquiescence, on all sides, in the results of the day's work.

THE Pall Mall Gazette boasts that America has backed down before British pluck. Some time ago Mr. SUMNER made a speech in the United States Senate Chamber. This speech, when it was read in England, produced the wildest excitement. All of the prominent newspapers appeared, teeming with bluster and blatant, bullying threats; official gentlemen wrote fierce letters to the Times, and the whole atmosphere seemed as thick with war as with fog. A repudiated Senator of the United States, sojourning in London, wrote a letter denying some of Mr. SUMNER'S propositions, but our Government said nothing, either for or against those propositions; nor to this hour has it or its representative, Mr. MOTLEY, said anything which supports or opposes them; yet the English papers are filled with articles of a much milder character, and Mr. MOTLEY has been cordially received in Liverpool. This whole affair, which forcibly recalls to our mind England's behavior in the Schleswig Holstein affair, some years ago, is called by the Pall Mall Gazette the backing down of America. It was in just this way that Germany backed down when England threatened to fight if Denmark were not allowed to remain unmolested.

Resolved (12th.) That the Republicans of Allegheny county have neither part nor lot in any vague and indiscriminate impeachment of public servants whose official records stand open to challenge the specific and minute investigation of their constituents, and that we can justly hold no citizen, whether in or out of office, to be guilty of offense against the public interests or the law, until that offense be proved by clear and ample testimony.

This resolution was adopted by the County Convention. It was suppressed in the Legislative, by Mr. THOMAS STEEL, who put it in his pocket, against the remonstrances of his two colleagues on the Committee. We have reason to know that it would have been adopted by that body, if they had been permitted by him to vote upon it. The Judicial Convention were led to reject it by the advice of a friend of the Commercial. In thus putting themselves on the record in favor of "vague and indiscriminate" attacks upon their own public men, and of hanging accused parties without a fair trial, we affectionately submit to the Republican delegates in the latter body that they made a grave mistake. It is pleasant to reflect that their nominees for the Judiciary are quite too well qualified for their positions to administer justice on the principles thus avowed by their rejection of the resolution.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

Mr. REVERDY JOHNSON never filled us with admiration for his qualities, either as a citizen or a publicist. He has commonly excited in us a feeling of repulsion rather than of cordiality. As Minister from the United States to the British monarchy, both his official and semi-official deportment was not only lacking in dignity but was clearly open to censure as subservient and truckling. He was charged wi h a mission of remarkable gravity and delicacy. In the due execution of it a peculiar poise of mind—a calmness of manner and a dignity of utterance—were indispensable. Menace and bullying were to be avoided, on the one hand, and all appearance of supplication or adulation, on the other. The Minister did not comprehend the situation in which he was placed, or, comprehending it, was deficient in the qualifications of temperament, intellect and culture to fit him rightly to perform the task that had been unwisely assigned to him.

That the treaty he negotiated for the settlement of the Alabama claims failed to satisfy popular opinion in this country, became manifest so soon as the terms thereof transpired. But, there are reasons to apprehend that the dissatisfaction instantaneously developed among the people, was caused in larger part by Mr. JOHNSON'S bearing abroad than by the conditions to which he assented. Disgust for the negotiator was naturally transferred to the result of his labors. The outcry against the treaty soon became unanimous and emphatic.

Mr. CHARLES SUMNER, in his place in the Senate, while the treaty was under consideration, in secret session, made an elaborate argument against its ratification. At his request he was allowed to publish his speech to the world. Its publication presented that gentleman in an entirely new attitude. Instead of combatting prevalent opinions, passions and prejudices, he was found for once to be in complete sympathy with the madness of the hour among his countrymen.

That this speech was learned, it is needless to affirm; but not a little of the erudition it contained was misapplied and mischievous. We said at the time, that the logic of the rejection of the treaty—provided rejection should be passed on the grounds assumed by Mr. SUMNER—was directly in favor of a declaration of war against Great Britain; for claims were by him set up and measures of damages insisted upon, which the tribunals of no civilized country would patiently listen to for even a moment in an analagous suit between private individuals.

We are not surprised, therefore, however much others may be, at the indignation which Mr. SUMNER'S speech, coupled with the rejection of the treaty, produced in Great Britain. No Englishman could be expected to assent to his exposition of internatianal law bearing upon the case, as no American would acquiesce therein if the like rule of damages should be urged against this country in any complication whatever. Nor yet do we think it strange, or amiss, that Mr. JAMES W. GRIMES, one of the Senators from Iowa, being in London, and observing that Mr. SUMNER'S speech had left the United States literally without friends among the British people, deemed it just and wise, in a letter to the Times, to represent that the ratification of the treaty was not defeated altogether or mainly on the grounds developed by the Senator from Massachusetts, but by a combination of causes, many of which were of an entirely different character.

In view of the excitement now prevailing in England over the demands made by Mr. SUMNER, it is fortunate that Mr. MOTLEY is not charged with the duties of immediately renewing negotiations. The tumult of British feeling will presently subside, particularly when it comes to be seen that the United States does not press a preposterous rule of damages to serve as a pretext for seizing British possessions on this continent, or in the adjacent waters.

Nor has the United States need to be in haste. Its just claim will not shrink or lose force by delay. Even the eloquent denunciation by Mr. WENDELL PHILLIPS, of all those principles of international law by the violation of which we feel aggrieved, and entitled to insist upon compensation, will not change the matured conviction of even one citizen. It may suit his notions of Republican propagandism in Cuba to set up a totally different rule of right for the government at Washington to follow, from that which he denounced England for not observing during the Rebellion here, but his inculcations in that regard will not bear the fruit he desires. Such a rule adopted towards Spain would not only release all demand we have on England for indemnity, but would put us to the blush for setting up any claim whatever.

Fortunately, the United States can afford to wait until such period as the feelings of rulers and people, here and in England, shall be chastened by lapse of time; and then such a settlement will be made as shall redress the grievances of those of our citizens who suffered loss, and as shall add new significance to international obligations in all cases of unjust uprising against legitimate and beneficial authority.

THE SLAUGHTERED RING.

Time and again the Pittsburgh Commercial has been invited to specify the men composing the "ring" which it has so often denounced. But on that point, of specific accusations, it has been silent as the grave. On Tuesday morning, it again invited the Convention to crush the "ring of corruptionists" forever. And on Wednesday morning, it solemnly announces that the needful work to that end has been gloriously accomplished. This is welcome news to all of us. There are none of our good Republican citizens who will not heartily unite with our neighbor, in its felicitations over this auspicious result. In town and country there has appeared of late a marked inclination to "discomfit the rings, so that the Republican organization should emerge from the ordeal strengthened and purified."

The "ring" says our neighbor has been flattened out and forever done for. We are not favored with the names of the offenders thus sacrificed to an aroused people's honest indignation. They were led to execution with their faces shrouded from curious eyes and died, as they lived, unknown. Well! we would have been glad to have learned their names, ages and ostensible occupations; this would have only satisfied a natural curiosity. But that certainly was denied to our people, and we must fain be happy in knowing that these masked and infamous "corruptionists" can never again return to plague our people, after the deep damnation of this taking off.

Since no one seems to know what citizens composed the dead "ring," it may be gratifying to mention some other citizens who still live, to enjoy the honor of having destroyed the "ring" forever. For example, there are the officers of the three Conventions, Messrs. T. M. MARSHALL, A. M. BROWN and A. H. GROSS. It is pleasant to hear from the Commercial that these gentlemen did not belong to the dead "ring." There were the Chairman and a large majority of the Committee on Resolutions. They, too, are now to be counted out of the obnoxious "ring". There are the prominent leaders, in the two Conventions where any contest was made, who so successfully accomplished the nomination of every candidate on the ticket. Those gentlemen, the leading Republican politicians of the county, are also acquitted of any connection with the "discomfited ring of corruptionists." There are the nominees themselves, from the highest to the lowest, not one of whom, as we are happy to learn from the Commercial, is justly chargeable with complicity in the "infamous clique" which it has warred against. All these, officers, leading members and nominees, now stand acquitted, of any share in the "ring," by our neighbor's sweet voice.

This leads us a step fa rther. Perhaps our investigations may yet reveal some definite knowledge as to that dreadful "ring." If it was beaten, "defeated at every point," flabbergasted, and catawampously chawed up—as the Commercial very correctly asserts that it was—we can only look for its members among the catalogue of slain. For example, was Mr. G. H. ANDERSON one of the "ring?" He was the Commercial's favorite candidate for the Senate, and a very good man nevertheless. He must have been beaten as one of the "ring." If so, served him right! Look at the candidates for Assembly also, and we shall find more of the "ring" among the victims here. Was Mr. HOLTZMAN, the Commercial's favorite, who got fourteen votes and then was snuffed out forever,—was he one of the "ring?" Certainly, he must have been. So with others of our neighbor's friends and favorites who went to grass at the first round. It was their guilty connection with the "ring" that did their business. Not so with Mr. Taylor, who is nominated for re-election, although the Commercial, which now swallows him, expressly said, not many days since, that Miles Humphreys was the only old member who merited a return to the House. We regret to learn from the Commercial that its friend and champion for the office of Commissioner, must have also belonged to the "dead ring," since our Republicans declined to accept his official services, even free gratis for nothing.

And so it seems to have been,—as our neighbor puts it in his bulletin after the battle—with all of the defeated candidates. It goes back on its bleeding friends, and scoffs at their defeat by telling that the "ring" has been handsomely "beaten at all points," and that anti-ring is every where triumphant. This is cold comfort for Messrs. ANDERSON, HOLTZMAN, DILWORTH and the other long lists of disappointed aspirants.

Now let us say, once for all, that we think better than that of these defeated candidates, who, with a few exceptions, were not beaten because they belonged to any "ring," but because the friendship of the Pittsburgh Commercial was fatal to their prospects. And we urge them to hold their false friend, who now realizes this, to a strict account for the wanton slander against their public and personal virtue.

Let us also say that every candidate known to be friendly to the Pittsburgh Commercial, and to be supported by the trading clique of its peculiar partizans, was laid out by the Conventions as cold as a wedge. Let our neighbor name, if it can, one name, on the Legislative or County ticket, whom it cordially supported or against whom it had not a competitor in the field. Our neighbor swallows the ticket entire, with not one of its own friends upon it, with a most becoming and Christian resignation. That it should indulge also in a fiction or two, by way of explanation, is only a proof of the force of old habits.

Well, we are all glad that the naughty "ring" has been beaten, that so many distinguished citizens and good Republicans stand acquit of complicity in it, and that the names of its really guilty members stand at last revealed in the catalogue of Tuesday's wounded and slain. We take the Commercial's word for all this, and, as it is just now very sick, it has probably told the truth.

Washington Items.

The graves of Mrs. Surratt and Captain Wirz were bountifully strewn with flowers on Saturday, by their rebel friends in this city.

The Pacific Railway board has informed the Government that there are at present one hundred and twenty locomotives in use on the road, and that in less than ninety days they will be able to put the road in such a condition that it will not be excelled by any other railroad in the country.

The Internal Revenue receipts for the fiscal year ending June 20 promise to come up to the full estimate for the year. So far they foot up $135,000,000. For June, owing to the income returns, they are expected to average more than half a million per day.

There are rumors afloat, with apparent foundation, that a difference between President Grant and Commissioner Delano, of the Revenue, Bureau, is imminent, which may develop itself into something serious. It is charged by Delano's opponents that he has manipulated the Ohio appointments for the purpose of securing his election as United States Senator, to succeed Senator Sherman.

The Secretary of War is in receipt of some recent dispatches from the Plains, which state that the prospects of a summer war are diminishing. The supplies to the army, some of which are to be temporarily loaned to the Indians, are pretty well advanced, and every effort is being made to keep the tribes in order.

The Emperor of Russia has signified his intention of sending an envoy extraordinary to Washington for the purpose of congratulating President Grant on the success of his election and to express the value that his Majesty sets on the maintainance of friendly relations between the two nations.

Ex Governor Curtin visited the President and Secretary Fish to-day, and received his instructions. The President and Secretary Fish were very particular in their suggestions to Mr. Curtin that he should impress upon the Czar that the friendship to our Government is fully appreciated and reciprocated.

The information at the State Department shows almost conclusively that the Brazilian and Argentine authorities, who control the La Plata below Asuncion, intercepted Minister McMahon's dispatches. McMahon was at Asuncion on the 1st of April; after that he ascended the river and joined Lopez. The Allies were undoubtedly interested in preventing a just representation of Lopez's affairs reaching the United States, and hence this breach of diplomatic honor and international law. The State Department will in a short time call the attention of the Brazilian and Argentine Governments to the above facts.

SECRETARY FISH has effected an arrangement with the Spanish Secretary of Foreign Affairs by which Senor Roberts, the Spanish Minister, has full power to settle all ordinary questions arising between the two countries in reference to Cuba. This has been done principally to save the cost, delay and uncertainty for cable telegraphing. No official or other news by mail has been received here for the last ten days relative to Cuba. Any immediate termination of hostilities is not looked for, and the contest will in all probability drag through the summer. The Spanish Minister says that it is the intention of the present Government to admit Cuba to representation in the Cortes, and treat her in future not as a colony, but as a portion of the mother country itself.

Thomas Carlyle on a "Future State."

A Glasgow paper gives to the public an interesting letter, (never before published,) written many years ago by Thomas Carlyle, in reply to an inquiry put before him by a young lady who had given her mind much to the moral problems involved in the question of a future state:

THE GRANGE, ALERSFORD,
September 27, 1848.

MY DEAR MADAM: The question that perplexes you is one that no man can answer. You may console yourself by reflecting that is by its nature insoluble to human creatures—that what human creatures mainly have to do with such a question is to get it well put to rest, suppressed if not answered, so that their life and its duties may be attended to without impediment from it. Such questions in this our earthly existence are many. "There are two things," says the German philosopher, "that strike me dumb—the starry firmament, (palpably infinite,) and the sense of right and wrong in man." Whoever follows out that "dumb" thought will come upon the origin of our conceptions of heaven and hell—of an infinitude of merited happiness and an infinitude of merited woe—and have much to reflect upon under an aspect considerably changed. Consequences good and evil, blessed and accursed, it is very clear, do follow from all our actions here below, and prolong, and propagate, and spread themselves into the infinite, or beyond our calculation and conception; but whether the notion of reward and penalty be not, on the whole, rather a human one, transferred to that immense divine fact, has been doubtful to many. Add to this consideration, which the best philosophy teaches us, that the very consequences (not to speak of the penalties at all) of evil actions die away, and become abolished, long before eternity ends; that it is only the consequences of good actions that are eternal—for these are in harmony with the laws of this universe, and add themselves to it, and co-operate with it forever; while all that is in disharmony with it must necessarily be without continuance and soon fall dead—as perhaps you have heard in the sound of a Scottish Psalm amid the mountains, the true notes alone support one another, and the Psalm which was discordant enough near at hand, is a perfect melody when heard from afar. On the whole, I must account it but a morbid weak imagination that shudders over this wondrous divine universe as a place of despair to any creature, and, contrariwise, a most degraded human sense, sunk down to the region of the brutal (however common it be) that in any case remains blind to the infinite difference there ever is between right and wrong for a human creature—or God's laws and the devil's laws. Yours, very truly,

T. CARLYLE.

The Union of the Presbyterian Churches.

Rev. Dr. Robert J. Breckenridge, a member of the New School Presbyterian Church organization, and editor of one its principal publications, strongly, and as usual with him, violently opposes the proposed union of the New and Old Schools. His objections are wholly on religious grounds; politically, Dr. Breckenridge was with the Old School. His protest concludes with the following words:

"In the end, I must be allowed to say, that it has seemed to me that this whole movement for reunion between the Old and New Schools, since it first appearance in the General Assembly at Columbus, Ohio, in 1862, as an organized agitation, has been a most senseless, graceless and dangerous excitement, against which it was the duty of every enlightened man, and every truly pious man in both denominations, to contend earnestly. I make this protest against the proposed union; and against all the proposed conditions thereof, separately and collectively; and against the methods resorted to for its furtherance; and against the spirit which in public and in private, so largely characterizes its advocacy, and its leading advocates, solely out of a sense of duty to God, to His Church, to my brethren in Christ, and to my own soul. And if any knowledge of my acts, or any remembrance of my name shall survive, either in this Church, now soon to be rescued by the Lord, or in it after God shall have humiliated and purged it, and then delivered it with an outstretched arm, my desire is that this protest may survive the scoffs of this age of vehement pretensions and shallow knowledge of divine things. Therefore, as well as to make clear my individual responsibility for whatever, in word or thought, any may object to, I hereto affix my name."

Indian Depredations.

A special from Fort Smith to the Chicago Tribune says that a party of about 250 Cheyennes attacked an unprotected settlement on the Saline river, about forty miles from Saline and 160 west of Topeka, on Sunday morning. They came under the pretense of friendship, and massacred thirteen men, women and children. The women were ravished, then killed. So far as known the names of those killed are the wife and four children of Thomas Alderdice, one eleven years old of Com. Hendricks, Andrew Altson and family, six in number, and a son of John J. Strange. The bodies were brutally mutilated.

A Leavenworth (Kansas) special from Ellsworth says, a man from the scene of the Indian murders on the Saline river, states the outrages were committed by the Sioux and Cheyennes, divided into bands of from nine to seventeen. Besides those known to have been killed, eight are missing, three of them women.

Dispatches from Kansas say that Col. Wier, with a squadron of Cavalry, is scouting on Saline river for Indians. Col. Merville will take the field from Fort Harker, General Custar from Hays, and Col. Hamilton from Riley, with orders to pursue vigorously and punish severely any Indians that may be found. The killing of thirteen persons in Saline county is confirmed.

ADDITIONAL particulars of the dreadful storm at Wheeling, show that the work of devastation was greater than at first supposed. The destruction of vineyards has been immense, and in most cases they are utterly ruined. Up Wheeling Creek Valley the distruction is enormous, and many sheep and lambs were killed in the fields, and the wheat and corn cut close to the ground. Many accidents to individuals are reported, some of which are likely to prove serious. The town of West Liberty, twelve miles distant, is reported in ruins, and hailstones to the depth of two feet yet remain at points on Main and Market streets.

HON. S. S. COX, who is writing most entertaining letters from the East, gives a horridly vivid description of the rites of the Algerine dervishes. After whirling themselves into the proper condition of insanity, "a brother appears from behind with a red-hot bar of iron. No. 1 laps it with his tongue. I see it smoke. My bloods runs icily. He slaps the incandescent iron with hand and foot. Then the ministering brother offers him, to eat, some delicate stems or pieces of glass. He crunched them and swallowed them. His digestion is excellent. If it had been candy, and he had been a juvenile, he could not have relished it more! Then No. 2, the intelligent, stops and has a long wire run through his tongue and out of each cheek, protruding four inches. He snarls meanwhile like a caged hyena. Then No. 3, who has been rather quiescent, commences to snap and bark like a hungry dog—eyes popping out, and face all savage and imbruted. Barked?—He howled, he growled. Finally, the ministering brother comes out with one of the thick leaves of the prickly pear, a foot long, in form of an elipse, an inch thick, and full of thorns; all the dervishes; drop down on all-fours and are biting at it and into it, and crunching it. The froth of their mad mouths hangs to the green prickles and slavers the green rind. Ugh! What more? No. 4, in an exstacy of fanatic diabolism, swallows a scorpion. Whether they have taken out the poison, or whether the afflatus is so enormously excited that poison is obnoxious, or what, God knows! We summon Mahmoud in haste; beckon our ladies from above in the dark, and seek relief and breath in the narrow streets. Upon this infernal orgy we have nothing to comment. It is as near making the human a wild animal as anything can be."

SENATOR CHANDLER has gone to Europe. According to the Detroit Free Press, he took with him two male and two female colored servants. The coats of the men servants are of lavender color, with white buttons, upon which is the Michigan coat of arms, except that the stags support the letter C, which is of red enamel, with gold edge. The female servants wear large belt buckles bearing the same design as that upon the buttons. The hats of the men are black, with a wide purple band and a large silver cockade. In the centre of which is one of the buttons aforesaid.

A REMARKABLE discovery has just been made by a man at Grenoble, France, by which it is calculated that cemeteries and graveyards will become superfluous. At the decease of an individual the body is plunged into a liquid invented by a man of Grenoble, and in about five years the individual is turned into stone. The secret of the petrifaction is known only to the discoverer. But he goes further. He says that in a thousand years' time, if persons will only preserve their relatives and friends, they will be able to build houses with them, and thus live in residences surrounded by their ancestors.

WALL STREET gossip says that the future plans of some of the leading railroad men and financiers involve no less a project than one grand consolidation line from New York to Chicago, putting in the New York Central at $70,000,000, the Hudson River at $30,000,000, and the Buffalo and Erie, Lake Shore, and Michigan Southern at $65,000,000, making one continuous line of railroad of 1,000 miles, with an aggregate capital of $165,000,000. The project is said to be the height of Commodore Vanderbilt's ambition.

MRS. VAN COTT, who made her debut as a metropolitan preacher in New York, Sunday before last, is about twenty-six years old, wears her hair frizzled, dresses neatly in black, has a plump figure and prepossessing face, and is gifted with a rich, strong voice, that is listened to with genuine pleasure.

MECHANICAL MEDICAL APPLIANCES.

There are certain phases of disease, and certain diseased conditions of the human system, which proceed from displacement and mal-position of some of the various organs of the human body. These are not remediable by the usual and ordinary methods used for the cure of other ailments: but require some mechanical stay or support to maintain the parts in position until they are healed. Prominent among these may be classed a displacement called hernia, or rupture, which is a protrusion of part of the bowel, and which must be returned and kept to its place by some outward support which should be properly adjusted in order to secure immunity from inconvenience and danger. The prevalence of this condition is now very common and should be attended to immediately on its appearance, not only because of the present inconvenience which its produces, but also in consequence of the usual danger of strangulation which is rarely remedied but by a surgical operation.

Varicose veins in the legs and varicocele are other forms of structural changes which need immediate and scientific outward support, in order to afford relief or effect a cure. Each of these condit ons are now as much within the pale of successful treatment as any of the other diseases to which mankind are liable.

Stooped shoulders may be cured at once by the use of my Shoulder Braces, which not only maintain the body in an erect position, but at the same time enlarge its capacity, and allow free and full expansion to the lungs, always a necessary condition to a healthy and perfect use of the pulmonary organs.

There are hundreds of females who would find great benefit from wearing these shoulder braces as they are so constructed as to take all the dragging weight from the back or spine and suspend the clothing from the shoulders. Those who use my shoulder braces need not wear suspenders, as they answer the double purpose of shoulder brace and suspenders: in fact they are the best suspenders ever invented. Sold and applied at

THE VITAL STATISTICS OF THE UNITED STATES

Show that periodical fevers and acute and chronic disorders of the stomach and bowels are among the most prominent and fatal diseases in this country. Disobedience to the laws of health, as regards diet; the use of pernicious stimulants: and the wear and tear of business excitement, and of "fast life" generally, have much to do with the prevalence of these maladies in our cities; while in the West, and especially in the newly opened districts, they are chiefly due to malaria, unwholesome water, and the exposure and privation incident to life in new settlements.

NOW, IT IS A FACT that that it is as possible to protect the human system against these maladies as to guard life and property against the incursions of assassins and thieves. Strengthen the vital organization with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and it becomes as capable of resisting the active principle of epidemic or endemic disease, as a fire-proof safe is of resisting the action of combustion. This is the experience of thousands who have remained unscathed by malarious disorders in the sickliest seasons, while their neighbors, who neglected to tone and regulate their systems with this unequaled medicinal stimulant, have fallen thick and fast around them. Weakness invites disease. Vigor repels it. Help nature to fight the good fight with infection, whether it be in the air, in the water, or the soil, with this matchless preparation—a compound of the rarest vegetable extracts with the purest of all diffusive stimulants.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, June 2, 1869.

Gold declined to-day to 138¾, after having sold as high as 139¼. The decline in the premium is attributed to the scarcity of money which set in before the close of banking hours.

Government securities were dull and lower selling at the close at a decline of three-eighths per cent, although the Government bought early in the day at about 120¾ for new bonds.

Stocks are buoyant and seem to be well sustained by the cliques. The general market is a rising one in its tendency and there is scarcely any probability that stocks will go down permanently before later in the season, when money becomes scarcer.

In our local market things are quiet as usual. Valley bonds are about 83; Columbia reports a sale of between 19 and 20, and Atlantic Telegraph Company 18¾. For Bank stocks the demand continues on all the old banks, but the new institutions do not share the same patronage by investors.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 2, 1869.

Money firmer at 6 per cent. on call loans. The increased activity is due to the growing distrust relative to the high prices on Stock Exchange. Sterling dull at 9@9¼. Gold heavy and lower on rumors that the Secretary of the Treasury intends to increase his weekly sales; price opened at 139⅜, advanced to 139½, and closed at 138¼@138¾. Cash gold abundant and carrying rates 6@8 per cent. and flat to 1-32. Clearances $86,000,000.

Stocks, during the morning were dull and barely steady, except on Vanderbilt Roads, Fort Wayne, Hannibal and St. Joe, which were active and strong; the latter rose to 108½; Central sold as high as 192¾; Hudson, 161; Harlem, 152½, and Fort Wayne 157¼; while Michigan Southern touched 119¼ and 117¼. In the afternoon the market was dull, affected almost entirely by the course of the messages on telegram as to the election at Cleveland. It fell to 116⅛@116⅝, and rallied to 117½, carrying the general list both down and up. The depression was caused by the statement that Mr. Williams was elected President. The market closed strong but unsettled.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, June 2, 1869.

The markets in a general way are devoid of anything new or important; nothing worthy of special notice. The demand for everything is very light, being confined mainly to supplying the immediate wants of consumers, and with a light volume of business in the aggregate, prices generally remain unchanged. The dull season is now at hand and it is likely to continue until after harvest; this is usually the case at this season of the year, and we see no reason why this summer should be an exception.

APPLES—Choice, $5@8.

APPLE BUTTER—90@$1,00 per gallon.

BUTTER—Prime to choice Roll is not so plenty and with an imprhved demand the market is firmer and higher, with sales reported at 25@28. Common very dull.

CARBON OIL—Is quoted at 28@29 for standard brands, in a jobbing way.

FLOUR—The market is quiet and unchanged. We continue to quote Spring Wheat brands at $6,50@7, and Winter Wheat at $7,50@8,00. Rye Flour, $6,50@6,75. The Pearl Mill Prices for fresh ground flaurs are as follows: Pearl Mill three star, green brand, in barrels, $9,40 and in sacks $9,10; double extra of selected amber and white winter wheat, in barrels $8,30, and in sacks $8,00; choice selected red winter wheat flour, in barrels $7,70, and in sacks $7,40; choice spring wheat flour in barrels $7,00 and in sacks $6,70. Oats dull and lower; sales to arrive, at 66½@67, buyers furnishing sacks; and sales in store at 72@75. Small sales of prime Yellow Ear Corn, at 83@85, as to quality. Live Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Live stock cattle are coming forward faster than they can be sold. The 2,100 for yesterday and to-day have scarcely all been sold. The prices are a little lower than on Monday, and fully ½c below the rates of last Wednesday. The quality was superior. About 10 head of extra fine brought 16½c, with not a large number at 16c. The more common prices for fat cattle were 15@15½c. None were common enough to go below 13c, and very few under 14. A choice drove of 9 cwt., Illinois steers, brought 15½@16½c; a drove of 7 cwt. cattle averaged $105. Grazers helped the market by buying stock cattle. Sheep come in sparingly, but sell very slowly. Only 700 head were received to-day, but they are not wanted. Several old lots are still unsold. A car of Ohio, 85 lbs, brought 6½c; a car, 96 lbs, brought 7c, with some of 70 lbs at 5½c. Hogs are unchanged; 52 cars arrived to-day; there is a shade of weakness in the trade.

CHICAGO, June 2.—Hogs dull and 10@15c lower; $8,50@8,90 for fair to choice. Cattle quiet and a shade easier; $5.25@5,62½ for common to good cows; $6,50@6,75 for medium to fair; and $7,00@7,50 for good to choice steers.

ST. LOUIS, June 1.—Cattle in moderate supply and steady at 4@7 for common to choice. Hogs are in fair demand at 7@9, gross.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The weather is a little inclement, and trade less active. Prices in the meantime rule steady and we have no important changes to observe, except in 4-4 bleached muslins of the Ocean Mill's brand, which have advanced from 14 to 14½c. There has been a large movement in plain cottons, and prices of various classes are likely to advance, but, nevertheless, trade looks gloomy enough.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

MURDOCKSVILLE, PA.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MESSRS. EDITORS: Doubtless your readers would be pleased to hear once in many years from the quiet, unassuming little village of Murdocksvills. On Friday the youth and beauty of the neighborhood, together with the usual sprinkling of age and homeliness, assembled near the aforesaid village in a most romantic little nook, which, in beauty and loveliness, almost baffles description. It is a grove of pines, situated in the angle formed by the confluence of the two noted little streams of "Potato Garden" and "Raccoon." The scenery around is at once wild picturesque, and grand. The day was fine, just the day for a picnic. During the morning it was sufficiently cloudy and portentous to cause an anxiety in the breasts of those who expected to be present, and a pleasant feeling of relief when at noon it seemed to clear away and appear favorable. A fine platform was erected and modestly decked with evergreens, from which a band of musicians with stringed instruments, accompanied by an organ and a horn, greeted us with enrapturing strains, sweeter to that appreciative audience, and sometimes sadder, than e'er was wrought on "Orpheus' Harp," or floated from Eolian strings beneath a hermit's touch. The Murdockville class also, led by Miss Lettie Ewin, entertained us with a few beautiful "quartettes," performed in a creditable manner.

A short valedictory address was delivered by Mr. Stephen A. Hunter, a member of the class, which was beautiful and appropriate, as their instructress, Miss Ewing, is soon to leave for her distant home in the West. He also presented to her, in the name of the class, a fine album as a token of their regard, after which the air of "Sweet Home" was struck up by the band in wild, sad strains, which seemed at times, almost to die away with soul-inspiring cadence,

"Like the plaintive voice of the moaning pine,

all seemed to enjoy the occasion, though in various ways. At times you would see a stray couple, wandering off half carelessly and half intentionally, to some more romantic nook to cull the wild flowers, which grew in abundance, and perhaps tremblingly place the little "forget-me-not" in the fair hand of the being at his side. But, as our company was one of those matter-of-fact sort of gentlemen, not at all inclined to be sentimental, we failed to be a participant in those sweet joys of the occasion. Soon a procession formed and marched to the other end of the grove, where, by the kindness of the ladies of the neighborhood, a table was spread with refreshments, inviting, and even tempting to the eye of the most fastidious epicurean. Of course we all enjoyed this part of the programme immensely. But an approaching shower, indicated by a portentous cloud and distant thunder, seemed to render it necessary to expedite business, so in justice to the gentleman, who in these days when "women's rights" are so zealously advocated, seem to be rather put out of notice, we would say they vigorously maintained their reputation, and very dexterously hid away the good things, if not in the stomach, in the region round about it, perhaps an inside coat pocket. But at last the unwelcome rain drops interrupted our felicity, and a motion was made to repair to the school-house near by, so taking a last, fond lingering look at the table, still loaded with dainties, we "tore ourselves away." And here a scene presented itself, perhaps unparalleled in the history of picnics. Human nature was strikingly manifested in its various "moods and tenses." Some bustling, some running, some frightened, while others were taking it quite cooly, obeying the Scriptures injunction, "Let your moderation be known to all men." And as we should be ever learning, we observed that these fared as well, if not better than those who "got in a flurry." For as every scene in life has its difficulties, so this, and we observed that those who in their hurry and excitement strayed from the right path, met with perplexing difficulties, in the form of underbrush interfering with crinoline and trains; however, we observed the gents acted their part gallantly and well, and were entirely unselfish in their vigorous efforts to extricate the ladies from their perplexing situation, and it was gratifying to us to see the ladies nobly stand up for their rights. Yes, we who have so long been deprived of so many of our rights, how gratifying to us, and we appreciate the enjoyment of those undisputed rights which we take advantage of at every opportunity. For it is one of "woman's rights" to drop her fan, glove or parasol, whenever she chooses, if it should be a half dozen times in a day, and how consequential she feels when she beholds the dignified "lord of creation" by her side, how his noble form, pick it up and hand it gracefully to her, and she may reward him with a smile, and a "thank you," or not, just as she chooses. We must confess we have almost felt like "accidentally" dropping it a second time, just to see a repetition of the graceful performance. But, we are digressing, so to return to our subject, the parting hour came too soon, and the company dispersed, feeling that an afternoon had been pleasantly, if not profitably spent, so taking a fond parting look on "this sly little nook by the babbling brook." We remain as ever yours,

KITTY CLYDE.

WELL ANSWERED.—A naval officer being at sea in a dreadful storm, his wife, who was sitting in the cabin near him, and filled with alarm for the safety of the vessel, was so surprised at his composure and serenity that she cried out, "My dear, are you not afraid? How is it possible that you can be calm in such a dreadful storm?" He rose from the chair lashed to the deck, supporting himself by a pillar of the bed-place, drew his sword, and pionting to the breast of his wife, while he adjusted his life-preserver, exclaimed, "Are you not afraid of that sword?" She instantly answered "No." "Why?" said the officer. "Because," rejoined the lady, "I know that it is in the hands of my husband, and he knows too well to hurt me, and that if I die now all my money will go to sister Belle."

IT should not be forgotten that on July 1st, the ceremonies of dedicating the monument in the Soldiers' National Cemetery at Gettysburg take place. They will be of a solemn and impressive character.

Outfit of a Royal Baby.

The Countess of Girgenti expects soon to add another member to the illustrious family of Bourbon, and the Empress Eugenie has kindly given her several costly articles of baby clothing. I was shown some of them a few days since. They comprise an "airing" suit, namely, soft lambs wool stockings; white quilted satin boots tipped with swan's down and tied with blue ribbon; a long robe of the finest cambric, delicately embroidered with fleur de lys and the royal arms of Naples, and frilled with several rows of Valenciennes lace, a mantle, hood, parasol, rattle and foot warmer. Insertion is prodigally and tastefully used in the tablier and body of the robe. The mantle is of white satin, covered with Alencon point and trimmed with blue rosettes and bows. It has two sets of pelerines; one is of lace and satin, and the other satin and swan's down. The linings are of Florence silk, quilted with eider down. A dozen gold nursery pins, delicately chased, are placed in a breast pocket of this garment, which is at once deliciously light and warm. In another pocket there is a duck of a handkerchief, trimmed and embroidered to correspond with the robe. The veil, which is of Brussels point is large enough for a bride on her wedding day. The Empress, not wishing to believe in the possibility of the eldest child of her young friend being a girl, only gives for the head gear a cap with a cockade and a boy's hood. There are some very dainty flannel underclothes, and a small hot water pan in silver, which was used by the Prince Imperial's nurse in keeping her illustrous charge warm during his airings. The rattle is not forgotten. This toy of early infancy is of gold and mother-of-pearl, very beautifully carved. It bears the cypher M. F. R.; for the baby, if a boy will be called Mario, Francisco, Pius and if a girl, Maria Francisca Pia, with a tail of other names held in high veneration in Spain and Naples. The crowning work of the outfit is baby's parasol, with its handle of carved ivory, its ribs of gilt bronze, its cover of glace silk lined with blue, and surmounted by an ivory Latin cross, with a tiny Madonna and bambino on the top of it, This pious symbol contains also an atom of the true cross set behind a turquoise. Isabella, of course, will have more faith in it as a preservation against lightning than in an electrical rod. The different articles I have enumerated, are with some other baby belongings, to be sent to the Countess Girgenti in a beautiful basket of Italian straw, done out in blue satin.—Letter from Paris.

A New Drilling Machine.

The other day we published an item declaring that a machine had been invented for boring oil wells in a new and improved manner. The Titusville Herald describes it thus:

On the flats in Oil City there is in operation a new machine for drilling oil wells, which obviates the use of the engine, walking beam, &c., and the ordinary derrick. So far as we can determine it will answer the purpose quite as well as they do.

The machine consists of a revolving circular platform, a derrick constructed of a pole and wire supports, two wheels which serve as a band and bull wheels, and a pitman. The wheels, derrick and pitman, and other apparatus, such as reels and cables, are situated on the platform, and the whole is turned by horse power.

The manner in which the conductor is driven and the drill operated is simple and ingenious. The conductor is placed close to the pole, and driven by striking it with a weight, on substantially the same principle as in the ordinary method. The conductor being driven, the tools and temper screws are attached to a cable, which is run over a pully in the top of the pole, and down the other side, where it is attached to a pitman which works in a slot, thus giving the tools two drops for every revolution of the slot. The drop is, of course, independent, and consequently much more effective than a drop made by the slow motion of a walking beam. The tools are turned with the machine, and no reamer is, or need be used. The tools are raised, the sand pumping and the pumping for testing the well, are done by the aid of horse power.

The average number of feet drilled per day by the machine, in limestone formation, was six, but in the softer formation in the oil region it is expected that it will be much greater.

Is Animal Food Always Injurious.

It seems to me perfectly unreasonable that God, in blessing Noah after the flood for his faithfulness, should give him control of "every beast of the earth, and every fowl of the air, and all that moveth upon the earth, and the fishes of the sea;" and should tell him that "every moving thing that liveth shall be meat for you, even as the green herb;" and should cause to be deposited in all these living creatures the same elements, in the same combinations as are wanted in the human system, and as are found in the "green herb," or vegetable food, and should, at the same time, make one class to be appropriate food and the other injurious.

That each class of food does contain the same elements, in the same combinations, and nearly the same proportions, is seen by tables of analysis. Take two articles—beef and wheat, for example. Beef contains of carbonaceous food thirty per cent., nitrogenous sixteen, phosphatic five, and water fifty. Wheat contains of carbonaceous food seventy per cent., nitrogenous fifteen, phosphatic two, and water fourteen. Now, considering that thirty per cent. of fat is equal to two and a half times as much starch, in heating power, or seventy-five to that of wheat at seventy, these two articles, and beef being of average fatness, in strengthening and heating qualities are nearly alike; but the beef has more than twice the nerve and brain food that the wheat has.

In this last respect, however, beef and wheat differ less from each other than some other articles entirely vegetable. For example: Northern corn contains but one per cent. of nerve and brain food, while beans contain three and a half per cent. and Southern corn, four.—From "How Not to be Sick," by A. J. Bellows, M. D.

WISCONSIN farmers are annoyed beyond endurance by countless pigeons, which dig up grain as fast as it is planted, compelling in many cases the replanting of whole fields. The birds are captured with nets and brought to market, shipped to Chicago and the East alive. At the opening of the pigeon season they sold readily at one dollar per dozen, and now they will hardly bring twenty-five cents per dozen, dressed.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills are doing, as it has never been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secret ons, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of fo d. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 34 Bond street New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office Hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. my19:151-d&F

Money to Loan.—We have $10,000 to loan on first class city property. Brown and Lambie, 114 Fifth avenue.

Fair and Festival every afternoon and evening at Rev. Andrews' church, Lawrenceville.

The Alleghony lockup yesterday morning contained eight inmates, the effects of the previous evening's potations.

Committed.—Isabella White was committed to jail, yesterday, by Alderman Neeper, on a charge of larceny preferred by Sampson Kerr.

A shifting engine jumped the track on Liberty street yesterday morning near Marbury. Considerable trouble and delay was experienced in getting it back.

Another One.—John Caner, a colored man, was arrested in Allegheny yesterday for cutting "sods" off the Common Grounds. He paid a fine of three dollars.

Assault.—John Kuntz made information before Justice Ammon, yesterday, charging John Zeerah with assault. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the assaulter.

Surety of the Peace.—W. F. Dearborn made information before Justice Heisel, of East Birmingham, yesterday, against John Edwards, for surety of the peace. A warrant was issued.

Bigamy.—Rebecca Burnett made information before Justice Heisel, charging Ed Burnett with bigamy. She alleges that the accused, having a wife living, was married to her. A warrant was issued.

Fell Through.—Robert Easton fell through the joice into the cellar of the new Library Hall, Tuesday afternoon, and broke his leg. He is a machinist and resides on River avenue, Allegheny.

Facial Injuries.—Michael Hartman, while assisting in unloading a metal boat, near the railroad bridge, yesterday morning, slipped and fell, cutting a severe gash on his face. The injury is not dangerous.

False Pretense.—Martha Schild, a grocer in East Birmingham, made information before Justice Heisel yesterday, charging Valentine King with obtaining goods to the amount of twenty dollars, under false pretenses. A warrant was issued for the arrest of King.

Afloat.—A large raft broke loose from its mooring some distance above the city, and came floating down the Allegheny yesterday morning about seven o'clock. It was secured by officer John Tetley, and tied up near the Hand street bridge, to await the appearance of the owner.

Wanted—Situation.—By a young man as book-keeper or assistant book-keeper, good penman, and has had several years experience in store and bank. Can furnish good reference and security, if required. Address box A GAZETTE office, or call at the GAZETTE Counting Room.

Social Pic-Nic.—A grand social Pic-Nic will be held at Linden Grove, to-morrow, (Friday, June 4th,) and judging from the names appearing on the cards as the Committee of Arrangments and Managers, we have no doubt the affair will be a success.

Threatened Him.—C. H. Wilhelm made information yesterday against Jacob Schnider, alleging that Schnider threatened to do him bodily injury. Justice Heisel, before whom the information was made, issued a warrant for the arrest of Schnider.

Died in Jail.—A male child, ten days old, son of Mary Ann McKenzie, who was committed sometime since on a charge of larceny, died in the jail Tuesday morning. Coroner Clawson held an inquest on the body yesterday morning, when the jury found that death resulted from peritonitis.

Frightened.—Nicholas Stein was terribly frightened yesterday by George Schaub, whom he alleges threatened to do him violence. Stein, fearing that he might carry his threat into execution, made information before Justice Heisel against Schaub for surety of the peace. A warrant was issued.

Disorderly Conduct.—Mary Schriner made information before Justice Heisel, of East Birmingham, yesterday, charging George Gorley with disorderly conduct. She alleges that the accused came to her residence drunk, and acted in a disorderly manner. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Bad Roads.—The roads of Scott township must be in a bad condition, if the statements of Dr. J. H. O'Brien, a resident in the district, be true. Yesterday he made information before Alderman McMasters against Christopher Hock, Supervisor of the township, for maintaining a public nuisance in the shape of thoroughfares, which are almost impassible, for man or beast. Warrant issued.

A Good Appointment—We learn that Mr. Joseph Winch has received the appointment of mail, or route agent on the Allegheny Valley railroad. Having a personal acquaintance with Mr. W., we have no hesitancy in pronouncing the appointment a good one. Mr. Winch is an industrious, active, and practical business man, and will discharge the duties of his appointment faithfully.

The eighth anniversary of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Home for the Friendless will be held this afternoon, (Thursday, June 3d,) at three o'clock, in the Union Baptist Church, on Grant street, near Sixth avenue, Pittsburgh. Interesting exercises may be expected. The public are cordially invited to attend. By order of the Board.

MRS. M. B. TREVOR, Sec'y.

Body Recovered—Coroner's Inquest.—Coroner Clawson yesterday held an inquest on the body of Casper Richter, a young man nineteen years of age, who was drowned Sunday, in the Monongahela river, near the south end of the Monongahela suspension bridge, while bathing. The body was found yesterday morning, near the ferry landing, at the Point. The jury returned a verdict of accidental drowning.

Vote for Recorder.—The correct vote for Recorder, in the County Convention, on Tuesday, as furnished by one of the Secretaries from the tally list, is as follows:

Thomas Hunter	125
Hugh McMasters	12
Henry Snively	7
Augustus Beckert	67
H. D. Wightman	7

Alleged Embezzlement.—Last evening John McGuire was arrested about eleven o'clock and lodged in the lockup, on a charge of embezzlement preferred against him by his brother, Joseph, before Alderman Koenig. It appears the brothers had some pecuniary transaction between them, when, according to Joseph's statement, he was defrauded out of twelve dollars. The accused will have a hearing this morning.

Abandonment.—Margaret Jacobs made information before Justice Heisel, of East Birmingham, yesterday, charging her husband, George Jacobs, with abandonment. It appears from the information that the deponent is the mother of four children, that she is sick and unable to work, and that her husband, the defendant, has neglected and refuses to provide for the support of her and his children. A warrant was issued.

Drove Over.—The ordinance relative to driving over sidewalks, seems to be one of those peculiar laws which a certain class of people have a chronic disposition to violate. Yesterday morning Mayor Drum's police arrested a teamster who manifested this spirit, by driving a team of horses, drawing a heavily loaded wagon, over the sidewalk in the Diamond. The usual fine was imposed and the driver departed, perhaps to forget the affair, and violate the ordinance again.

Slapped and Kicked.—Agidans Gutenmiller and Frank Reidenmiller, residing in the Tenth ward, had a dispute yesterday, which was impolitely concluded by Frank "slapping Agidans in the mouth and kicking him with his foot"—what else he could kick him with we don't know—but such is the allegation in an information for assault and battery preferred by Agidans against Frank, before Alderman Taylor yesterday. A warrant was issued.

Correction.—In our report of the proceedings of the Judicial Convention, we inadvertently stated Mr. R. H. Davis, of Kilbuck, opposed the resolution instructing the delegates chosen to the State Convention to vote for Gen. Geary for Governor. Mr. Davis did not oppose the resolution, but spoke in favor of it, and says in a note to us that he is "decidedly in favor of the re-nomination of Gen. Geary." We cheerfully comply with his request to place him right on the record.

Officer Assaulted.—Officer Dougherty, of Alderman Lynch's police, made information before that official, yesterday, against James Anderson for assault and battery. The officer alleges that he had a warrant for the arrest of Anderson for forcible entry and detainer. In pursuance of this duty, he alleges, he called at the house and attempted to secure his man, who, however, refused to go, and shoved him out of the house. Anderson was arrested and committed on both charges for trial.

Further Litigation.—John Frounholts, a saloon keeper in Lawrenceville, made information before Alderman McMasters yesterday, against R Elliott, William Jones, Thomas Gillespie, F. M. Gardiner and John Smith, all members of the Mayor's police, for aggravated assault and battery. The suit arises out of an information made before the Mayor against Frounholts for selling liquor on Sunday, which resulted in an assault upon officer Elliott subsequently. For this attack information for aggravated assault was made before the Mayor, and it is alleged that while being arrested on this charge the offense here stated was committed. Warrants were issued.

In Number Eleven of Appletons' Journal, just issued, is commenced a new story by Mrs. Oliphant, called "The Three Brothers," published from advance-sheets purchased of the English publishers. Mrs. Oliphant is among the best of the English novelists, and the opening chapters of this novel give promise of a story of exceeding interest. This number of the Journal is accompanied an by eight-page suppliment, containing sixteen illustrations of scenes in and about New York. They are executed in a very superior manner, much better than we usually find in illustrated journals. One of the literary features of this number is the beginning of a series of papers, called "Seven Sittings with Powers, the Sculptor," by the Rev. Dr. H. W. Bellows.

A Family Breeze.

Henry Bratch, according to the statement of his spouse, must be anything but a loving companion. The lady alleges that he beat and cruelly abused her the other day for no cause whatever. For this offence he was arrested and fined $25 by Mayor Brush. Coming home, it is said, he resumed his amusement and indulged in it to such an extent that Mrs. Bratch was almost unable to walk. She managed to appear, however, before Alderman McMasters, yesterday morning, and lodged information against him for aggravated assault and battery and surety of the peace. Bratch keeps a hotel on Water street. Warrant issued.

Highway Robbery.

Thomas Carr and Thomas Clarkson, while staggering along the streets of Temperanceville, Tuesday night, considerably under the influence of liquor, were attacked and robbed of about two hundred and fifty dollars. The robbers after getting the money fled and left their victims to pursue their way homeward. Shortly after the occurrence, the effects of the whisky still apparent upon them, they met Mr. Wesley Kern, a young man of respectability, who they at once decided was one of the parties who had participated in the robbery, whereupon they attacked and beat him shamefully. Kern made information against them for assault and battery before Justice Kerr, and yesterday they were committed to jail in default of bail for their appearance at Court.

The Concert To-night.

We have before us the programme of Mr. Tetedoux concert which is to take place to-night in Liberty Hall, in East Liberty. The selections, including four pieces of Rossini's "Messe Solennelle," reflect credit on Mr. T's good taste, and on the public for whom they are intended. As to the singers, we need only mention their names to convey the conviction that full justice will be done to the programme. The sopranos are Mrs. Mellor and Mrs. Stewart, Miss McCandless, Miss Porter, Miss Northam; the contralto, Miss Rinehart; the tenor Mr. Zimmerman; the base, Messrs. Breed, Edwards and Rinehart. We hear of quite a stir in musical circles, and are sure that, the weather helping, our Pittsburgh amateurs will have an overflowing house.

Strange Festivity.

Joshua Strange, a colored youth, was in a festive mood last Sunday evening, and in the course of his meanderings entered the African Church on Boyle street, Allegheny. The occasion, time and place should have been sufficient to tone Joshua's hilarity down to, at least, a moderate cheerfulness, but such seems not to have been the case. Once inside, his first objective point was the gas chandalier in the vestibule, at which he attempted in vain to light a venerable meerschaum. By this time an official became cognizant of his presence, and blandly insinuated that a walk in the open air might be beneficial, but this gentle intimation to retire had not the desired effect, and evoked an artistic, though rather boisterous vocal exercise, in which the performer rhythmically expressed his intention of remaining until morning—"till davlight d-does ap pear." He suddenly changed his mind, however, and withdrew, in a somewhat demoralized and precipitate manner, influenced in a great measure by several members of the church, who failed to appreciate the sweetness and sentiment of his vocalizations. Subsequently they consulted with Mayor Drum, and as a result, John was compelled to pay a fine of five dollars last evening for his little eccentricity. He can't understand and thinks it a strange proceeding throughout.

Prospects of the Oil Market.

Yesterday we had a letter shown to us, under date of 31st ult., written by a prominent oil firm in the oil regions to a friend of their's. They give their views of the market and production, &c., based upon facts of personal observation. They say:

"Some time since we all looked for a small production during this year, and consequently high prices, but to the contrary we have had a larger production for the same period of 1869 than in 1868, and our present prospects are, that we will produce fully 1,500 to 2,000 barrels per day for the balance of 1869 over the same period of 1868. Four dollars per barrel pays largely to a producer, and demonstrates the fact that small wells and many of them produce a great deal of oil, and we have now a flattering prospect at and between Shamburgh and Pleasantville, and below Pleasantville and Pit Hole, on Cherry Tree Run, Scrub Grass, and on the Niles Farm, near the old Neyhart Farm. We fully believe them to be good for 1,500 bbls inside of sixty days. Take these things with the fact that we have exported more refined oil in 1869 that in 1868, during the same period without creating any scarcity, but to the contrary an increase of stock, we cannot help but feel that 1869 will have its three dollar oil as well as any other year, and would not advise to buy a barrel more than is actually needed from day to day."

Business of the Mayor's Office.

NUMBER OF CASES.

Drunkenness	312
Disorderly conduct	282
Vagrancy	37
Informations	73
Informations for disorderly conduct	79
Violation of ordinances	19
Total	802

The number of cases discharged during the month was ninety-five.

RECEIPTS OF OFFICE.

Fines	$1,467 75
Jail receipts	167 00
Night police	211 90
Dramatic	65 60
Wilkins Hall	25 00
Total	$1,867 65

Twenty-four tavern keepers were returned during the month for selling liquor on Sunday. The fines amounted to $1,200. Of this $600 were paid to the Guardians of the Poor, and $600 to the informers.

The total receipts of the office for the four months ending May 31st, were $7,652 50. The receipts for the month of May, 1868, were $652.50, showing an increase in favor of the month just past, of $1,224.15.

Fashionable Wedding.

A brilliant and fashionable wedding came off at the Synagogue on Hancock street, yesterday afternoon, at half past four o'clock. Miss Julia Frank, the accomplished daughter of Wm. Frank, Esq., of Mount Washington, was united in the holy bonds of wedlock to Moses Oppenheimer, Esq., of this city. The ceremonies on the occasion were performed by Rev. L. Naumburg, and were of an interesting character. The bride was elegantly attired in a white satin dress, and was attended by six bridesmaids who were also tastefully dressed in white. The groomsman wore a neat black suit and white kid gloves, and was attended by six groomsmen similarly dressed. The Synagogue was filled with a large and fashionable assemblage, and the affair is classed as one of the most fashionable weddings of the season.

Another Insane Man.

Detrick Feddler, an insane man twenty-three years of age, was arrested opposite the Union Depot, on Tuesday afternoon, and taken to the lockup. He is a German and has been in this country about twelve years. He states that his father keeps a dying establishment at No. 421 West Forty-fourth street, New York City, and further says that he served three years and six months in the Forty-fifth Regiment of New York Volunteers. The poor fellow is a "stranger in a strange land." He is not a resident of this city, and cannot get into the City Home, and not being a resident of the county there is no room for him in the County Home, and his condition is such that he is not a fit person to run at large, so we presume he will have to remain in the lockup until such time as his mind is restored.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Maffit and Bartholomew's comic pantomime troupe are achieving that success at this establishment which good performers invariably receive. To-night, the comic pantomime of "Kim Ka; or, the Adventures of an Aeronaut" will be presented. The scenes are laid in oriental lands, and abound in many racy hits and new novelties. The "Two Fugitives" will conclude the programme.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—This afternoon at half past two o'clock, a grand matinee for ladies and children will be given at the Pittsburgh Theatre, on which occasion a new and varied entertainment will be presented. To-night "Ixion" will be played for the last time. The performance is interspersed with songs and other attractive features, which form a pleasing variety.

GRAND CONCERT.—Our readers should not forget the grand vocal and instrumental concert to be given this evening in the Smithfield Street M. E. Church, by the choir and a corps of amateurs, under the direction of Professors Giles and Alexander. The programme has been selected with great care and judiciousness, and we can assure all who attend a pleasant and well spent evening.

The Suicide at the House of Refuge.

In the GAZETTE of yesterday we stated that a boy, an inmate of the House of Refuge, had committee suicide Tuesday evening, but were unable to give any particulars. Coroner Clawson was notified and held an inquest on the body yesterday, when the following facts transpired: The "victim of his own rashness" was Alfred Henry, a youth about seventeen years of age, who was sent to the House of Refuge from Beaver county about two months since, at the instance of his parents, for incorrigibility. Tuesday morning he made an attack upon one of the instructors or wardens of the establishment with a shovel, for which he was placed in the cell where he terminated his existence, about half-past five o'clock, by taking the sheet from the bed, fastening one end of it to the bar across the upper portion of the window, then getting up in the window he fastened the other end round his neck with a noose, and jumped down. Life was entirely extinct when the body was discovered. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the facts.

Couldn't Collect It.

Honora Price, residing on Fifth avenue, Third ward, started out in good spirits yesterday morning to collect a little account, but returned unsuccessful and disappointed, like many a collector before her. Honora's ill success is thus explained: Her husband, she states, was in the employ of John Snyder, but left a short time since without having his account squared. According to his calculation a small amount was due him, and it was this that she was commissioned to secure. She waited upon Mr. Snyder, stated the case, and was astonished when informed that everything had been settled at the proper time. Persisting in her demands, and refusing to leave, the end of the conference found her ejected from the premises. She then repaired to Alderman Lynch's office and made information for assault and battery against Snyder. He was arrested shortly afterward and gave bail for a hearing.

Fifty Dollars Gone.

Tuesday morning, a couple of Teutonic gentlemen called at a saloon on Penn street, near Canal, and slaked their thirsty throats with numerous glasses of their favorite foaming beverage. Upon leaving, one of them, apparently oblivious to terrestrial things, was persuaded by his friend to leave his pocketbook, containing fifty dollars, in the hands of the saloon-keeper for safe keeping until they should return in the evening. True to the arrangement, one of the men called in the evening, secured the pocketbook and went off. He had hardly been gone before the other man, owner of the article, appeared on a similar errand, but only to find himself the victim of a small confidence game. His friend, by this time, was out of reach, and the most anxious search has failed to discover him since.

Arranging the Table.

There is scarcely anything more attractive than neatness and order in the arrangement of the household table. To secure this great desideratum, nowever, in domestic economy, there are a few things necessary, the most important of which is the possession of a choice and properly selected stock of queensware. Superiority in other respects will not atone for defects in this. Happily now, however, there need be no deficiency in these articles, as the manufactures at the Keystone Pottery, Messrs. Kier & Co., proprietors, while combining all the excellencies of quality, style, durability and finish, are yet sold at such moderate prices, no one need be without a supply. At the warehouse, No. 363 Liberty street, a large and varied assortment of goods is kept constantly on hand for inspection and sale.

A Luxury.

A good cigar, in the present age, with a great majority of persons, has become one of the necessary luxuries of existence, a fact which accounts for the large and rapidly increasing trade in tobacco. Among those in our city who cater to this public taste, Mr. John Megraw, No. 45 Hand street, will be found to keep constantly on hand the best articles and one of the largest supplies in store anywhere. Some of his brands of cigars have achieved a wide celebrity among lovers of the weed, not only in this, but in other sections of the country. Those of our readers desiring anything in the line of cigars, tobacco, snuff, pipes, pouches, meerschaums, &c., &c., would consult their own interests by making their purchases at No. 45 Hand street.

A Model House.

With pleasure we join in the general sentiment of commendation with which the establishment of Mr. W. W. Moorhead, No. 81 Market street, is everywhere spoken of. Mr. Moorhead makes a specialty of his business, which is the great reason of his remarkable success. Everything from a paper of pins to a superb India shawl, including lace goods, fine dress goods, trimmings, &c., all styles, may be found in his model storeroom, none of which is of inferior quality or sold at unreasonable prices. Lately a new and carefully selected assortment has been added to the already large stock of goods, and we would advise our readers desiring the first choice to make their purchases as soon as possible, and before the rush begins.

To the Ladies.—All kinds of family sewing and children's wear made to order.

Also, stamping, braiding chemise, night dresses, yokes, pillow cases, &c., at the Weed Sewing Machine, office No. 116 Market street. 6.

The Continental.

The Continental Saloon, Fifth avenue, next door below the Postoffice, is kept open during the day and evening for the accommodation of all who desire a properly prepared and substantial meal at any hour. The table is daily supplied with the best in the market, and managed with such commendable neatness and cleanliness that the appetite of the most satiated epicure could not resist the attraction presented. Mr. Holtzheimer, the gentlemanly proprietor, understands thoroughly his business, and conducts it with a tact and ability which has secured for the establishment the high reputation which it at present enjoys.

Choice Reading Matter.

School, law, medical, philosophical and theological books in great variety and assortment may be found at Col. J. D. Egan's, Sixth avenue, below Smithfield street. The Colonel also has a rare and valuable collection of works in various departments of literature, many of which are out of print and can be procured nowhere else in the city. All the latest periodicals, magazines, &c., will also be found on his counters. The traveller, the merchant, the divine, the student, the politician, and man of general letters, may be suited at this establishment. Remember the place, Sixth avenue, below Smithfield street.

The Munson Lightning Rod.

During a thunderstorm at Eddyville, Ulster county, New York, Saturday morning, May 15th, the lightning struck a building of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company, setting it on fire. Before the flames could be subdued, five barns, two stores, and a storehouse, and the buildings and way of a shipyard, together with a boat, were destroyed. Much valuable property would be saved annually if persons having buildings would protect them by the use of the Munson Copper Lightning Rod, manufactured by Lockhart & Co., 234 Penn street, Pittsburgh.

It is Seldom that we use the columns of this paper to "puff" or notice the "thousand and one" articles known as "Patent Medicines." We, however, vary from our rule in the present case, that we may call attention to the article known as "S. T.—1860—X., Plantation Bitters." We desire it understood that we do so without any solicitation or promise of benefit from the proprietor or other interested parties. We simply do it as an act of duty towards those who are laboring under physical disabilities, weakness, and the various complaints arising from impurities of the blood. Having used the Bitters at the instigation of a friend, (and, we confess, with some misgivings at the out set,) we found them a most valuable medical compound, and to our great satisfaction, accomplished the object for which they were used.

OURS is not the only nation which pays roundly for small services or none at all. In England there are scores of persons in the pay of the Foreign Office at high salaries, who have not done a day's service in twenty years. One man, who has received $270,080, has not been consulted since 1854; another, who has lived in absolute idleness for forty-four years, has received $150,000. There are numerous cases of this kind. A man, ever so clever and useful, is set aside by some Foreign Secretary, perhaps for a relative or favorite of his own, and goes upon the retired list when 30 years old, and lives till 80, receiving from 5,000 to 10,000 a year to live where he likes—fifty years enjoying his otium cum digni ate at the expense of people who work very hard and starve a little at times to pay their rates and taxes. The places in the Royal household, honorable sinecures, are a sort of pension or reward for political services. These change with the changes of Cabinets.

A SYNOD of Free Church ministers in Argyleshire, Scotland, has been discussing the subject of promiscuous dancing. "In all parts of Scotland," according to one witness, "the evil was raising its head. In Campbelton, Lochgilphead, Inverary, even in Rothesay itself, midnight balls, revelry, and their consequences, were greatly on the increase." At Lochgilphead there is a ball every year, though the minister "always preaches on the subject previous to its taking place." A deceitful practice has also sprung up of having soirees, followed by dancing, so that the clergy who accept what seems an innocent invitation, find themselves betrayed into countenancing sinful pastimes. As a mere exercise, dancing was denounced as a system of "meaningless antics," "a certain shuffling of the limbs which, rationally regarded, was unintelligible and savagely uncouth."

Life Peerages in England.

The British House of Lords, after a great deal of hesitation, has agreed to the second reading of a bill for the infusion of new blood into the House of Peers, by the creation of twenty-eight life peers—that is to say, the appointment of that number of gentlemen by the Prime Minister to sit during life in the British Senate; and the speedy passage of the bill through both Houses of Parliament may be regarded as a certainty. Seven years must elapse before the whole number of the new Senators can be appointed. The twenty-eight new peers are to be selected from six classes: first, Scotch or Irish peers who have not at present seats in the House of Lords; second, persons who have been members of the House of Commons for ten years; third, officers of the army and navy; fourth, persons who have held high judicial offices; fifth, ex-civil servants of the crown; sixth, persons distinguished in the arts and sciences.

This bill will establish an important principle in English Government—that of a Representative Senate instead of a hereditary Legislature, and will pave the way for the total abolition of hereditary legislators, or for swamping them by the addition to their numbers of a majority of representative men. Mr. Gladstone, if he remains in power six years, will have the privilege of strengthening himself and his party, under this bill, by the addition of twenty members to the Liberal side of the House of Lords.

RHODE ISLAND'S postponement of action on the XVth Article is connected with the wars of Sprague and Anthony. Senator Anthony is reported to have worked hard and openly to defeat the Amendment. The ground upon which professed Republicans base their opposition to the Amendment seems a foolish one. Rhode Island exacts a property qualification in naturalized voters. The Constitutional Amendment providing that no man shall be deprived of the privilege of voting "on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude," would compel us, say the followers of Senator Anthony, to admit foreigners without any such qualification, and most of them would vote for Sprague. This is a curious misunderstanding of language. Are Europeans of a different race from ourselves, or only of different nation? The timid Republicans might as well do the thing handsomely while they are about it, and argue that the same clause would oblige us to admit aliens to the sufrage without the qualification of five years' residence.

THE veteran New York editors are thus spoken of by a correspondent: "A great change will take place in the journalism of New York, during the next ten years. We may count, with an almost absolute certainty, upon losing Mr. James Gordon Bennett, Mr. Bryant, Mr. Thurlow Weed, and Mr. Greeley. If they are not actually beneath the sod, they will have outlived their usefulness as journalists. Already there are those who think that Mr. Greeley's mind is failing. Mr. Bennett is so feeble that he seldom comes down to his office." Mr. Bryant is very aged, and Mr. Weed has suspended all active labor.
